

“Super High” Nicotine Youth Appealing Electronic Cigarette Flavors

Electronic cigarette liquid (ejuice) is available in a variety of nicotine strengths ranging as high as 36 mg/ml and even 54 mg/ml. Nicotine levels of 16mg/ml are usually advertised by the electronic cigarette industry as “full flavored” while nicotine levels of 36 mg/ml are described as “super high” or “unfiltered”.

Super high nicotine concentrations are available in youth appealing flavors such as Peppermint Party, Banana Split, Marshmallow, Tutti Fruti Gumballs, My Birthday Cake, Carnival Cotton Candy, Totally Toffee, Strawberrylicious, Chocolate, and Energy Drink. These e-liquids are marketed online with bright and colorful images (see accompanying Powerpoint) and dispensed in similarly colorful bottles. It is quite evident that these are designed to appeal to teens. The numerous sweet flavored variety are also attractive to younger children.

As measured by Calafat and co-workers, Marlboro has 0.92 mg nicotine per cigarette. A 10 cc bottle of 36mg/ml chocolate e-liquid has the nicotine equivalent of 391 cigarettes. This volume of concentrated nicotine is sufficient to kill a sizable number of kindergartners.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention warns on its website that the fatal human dose has been estimated to be about 50 to 60 mg for a 150 pound adult. The lethal dose in a child is a small fraction of this.

The development of Advanced Personal Vaporizers, or Mods, has also dramatically increased the volume of vapor inhaled per puff, which further increases potential nicotine absorption. The large clouds of exhaled vapor raises the risk of second hand nicotine exposure.

Ice Tart (30ML)

Be the first to review this product

This is way more than just a unique recipe. We researched some of the rarest ingredients used in e-liquids and came up with a keeper. Ice Tart Ultra Premium E-Liquid is reminiscent of those yummy shaved iced desserts you had as a kid. The cooling sensation of menthol is combined with a sweet pixie stick flavor. This e-liquid can only be described as a breath of fresh air.
